Engineering & Mechanical Technology

Given in Honor of Fred E. Dulmage

The Fred E. Dulmage Memorial Award was established by The Dow Chemical Company to commemorate Mr. Dulmage's many accomplishments, which helped the company's product development. Mr. Dulmage worked at The Dow Chemical Company, in its early years. He and his wife, Florence, raised a family, and although he only graduated from the eighth grade, his natural love of science and engineering led to many achievements. These included many patents issued in his name. He passed away in 1959. The award recognizes a mechanical engineering or mechanical technology student graduate with the goal to encourage other students to strive for success.
